Can Persona export character data?

Dawn Messerly - 2015-03-24 - Persona (Mac)

I want to be able to export character data from Persona. Can I do that?

Although version 1.0 will not have the option to export your characters, exporting is a feature that we will likely be adding in a subsequent release. Chances are, we will first allow exporting to other Mariner apps, and after that, to other formats that may be imported directly into other apps. In order for us to export characters that can be imported into third party applications, we will probably need the assistance of those 3rd party developers, and we haven't assessed at this time how smoothly that will go.

But again, we will be looking into export features for subsequent releases of Persona.
