

Mariner Software

Portal > Knowledgebase > MacGourmet VERSION 3 ONLY > I upgraded from MacGourmet version 1 and lost my recipes. How I do to get them back?

---

I upgraded from MacGourmet version 1 and lost my recipes. How I do to get them back?

Mac Johnson - 2019-04-22 - in MacGourmet VERSION 3 ONLY

Q: I upgraded from MacGourmet version 1 and lost my recipes. How I do to get them back?

A: As of MacGourmet 2.3, upgrades from version 1 databases are no longer automatic.

You can upgrade from version 1 though, assuming your version 1 information is in the default location, by first downloading version 2.2.6, which still had this ability, and then upgrading to version 2.4.7. You can still download 2.2.6 using this link.

If, when you run version 2.2.6, it doesn't ask you to upgrade, try removing the MacGourmetDatabase file in Documents and then running it again. Provided your version 1 database is where it should be the upgrade should proceed automatically and you can then upgrade to the latest version of MacGourmet.

You can download the last version of MacGourmet 2 from the previous downloads page.

Tags

macgourmet

upgrade